

Gabe

Donations to the Red Cross

I think you should donate money to the Red Cross. After all these natural disasters over the years they could really get some help. The Red Cross has helped us with Katrina and earthquakes through out America.

Red Cross helps us with floods, hurricanes like hurricane Lee and hurricane Irene. It also assists people affected by tornadoes in Tornado Alley. Red Cross help around the too. For example, the Red Cross provided supplies to the Chileans when there was an earthquake. All together they have assisted many places that have been affected by natural disasters.

Red Cross have saved many people from natural disasters and disasters caused by humans. Sometimes wild fires are sometimes caused by humans, then Red Cross comes to help. That's why you should donate money to the Red Cross.